Programme Glastonbury August 2018

Tuesday, 28th August 2018

- 08:30 Breakfast in dining room
09:45 Leaving for Glastonbury Tor

Glastonbury Tor

Glastonbury Tor is a hill, topped by the roofless St Michael's Tower. It is known as being one of the most spiritual sites in the country. Its pagan beliefs are still very much celebrated. In Celtic mythology, the Tor became associated with Gwyn ap Nudd, the first Lord of the Otherworld (Annwn) and later King of the Fairies. The Tor came to be represented as an entrance to Avalon, the land of the fairies. The tor is supposedly a gateway into "The Land Of The Dead".

Collard Hill

Collard Hill, not far from Glastonbury, is one of the few places in the country where you can see this extremely rare creature – Large Blue Butterflies

Programme Glastonbury August 2018

Thursday, 30th August 2018

- 08:30 Breakfast in dining room
- 10:30 Leaving for Avebury Stone circles (journey 1 hr 20 min)
- 12:20 Pub Lunch
- 14:00 Exploring the Avebury Stone Circles and the Sanctuary (Meditation included)

The Sanctuary, Avebury

Begun in about 3000 BC, it was originally a complex circular arrangement of timber posts, which were later replaced by stones. These components are now indicated by concrete slabs.

Its function remains a mystery: possibly it enshrined the dwelling place of some revered person. Huge numbers of human bones found here, accompanied by food remains suggesting elaborate death rites and ceremonies.

Avebury Stone Circle

It was built and altered over many centuries from about 2850 BC until about 2200 BC and is one of the largest, and undoubtedly the most complex, of Britain's surviving Neolithic henge monuments. It is believed that these circles were used for ritual human sacrifices to please Pagan gods and goddesses. Devil worshiping has also been associated with these stones.
